

NEW YORK BIRD LIST REPORTS 1998

Compiled by Berna Lincoln

Hillary and Rudy, eat your hearts out! More of us have been listening – and looking, of course – in more New York counties than you even know exist.

Bill Watson is now the third person to have done so in all 62. Congratulations, Bill!

Jane Graves, Bill Ostrander and Dave Russell reported from 55 counties, Alison VanKeuren from 54 and Tom Dudones from 50. We continue to wait for someone to reach the threshold of 100 species in all 10 Regions. Bill Purcell has joined Jane Graves and Stan at eight and I'm still mired at nine.

In response to a suggestion that we establish a special category for young birders, I tested the audience by asking for birth dates of reporters aged 18 and under. Apart from the wistful and wishful, there was only one legitimate reply. More would certainly be welcome. The records of sixteen-year-old Mike Andersen of Nassau County are marked with ■.

Ninety-two people sent reports this year and many wrote very interesting and much appreciated notes about their experiences. I wish I could include them all.

Mike Peterson sent us Geoffrey Carleton's final top lists from Region 7 and Essex County. Jeff, who died in December, "was one of the best," said Mike. Amen! At the other end of life's birding journey, Mark Russell, age 7, got his first Spruce Grouse while climbing his first Adirondack high peak with his dad, Dave. (It was a life bird for Dave, too, but his 27th peak.)

For the first time, all counties have top lists of 100 or more. Laurie Freeman, a resident, has met the Fulton County challenge in fine style and we look forward to hearing from her for many years to come. Kate Beale and Bob Boehm (of Schoharie) wrote, "After feeling sorry for our neighboring Montgomery County for a while now, we belatedly decided to do something about it – go birding there!" A few morning walks and some backroad exploration and "here you have it: three digits for MONT." That's the spirit!

And that's the spirit we hope many more will adopt as we move into the intensive field work required to produce New York's second-generation Breeding Bird Atlas. As a Regional Coordinator for the first atlas, I was dismayed at the number of birders who resisted any plea that they take on an atlas block (or a few) anywhere outside their "home turf." One of my incentives for starting the county listing project was the hope that it would expand everyone's thinking about where to go birding in our big, beautiful and varied state and inspire at least some to get out and explore new places. It's obviously worked. Now that a lot of you have expanded your horizons, consider volunteering for atlas work in some places far from home in the next few years. Many areas have few resident birders and will need lots of outside help. You can do atlas work and add to your county lists at the same time. Sort of killing two – well, we'll let that one go.

Finally, one reporter wrote that he had resisted the county listing for a few years because he considered it "frivolous." Hey, frivolous is o.k. A lot of us are having a lot of fun with this activity and it doesn't need any other justification than that.

As noted on the report form, only lists submitted for 1998 are printed here. The only "holdovers" are high counts reported in prior years that haven't yet been surpassed. They're at the end of this report.

The 1999 report form will be in the January New York Birders and you'll need to send it in, even if your numbers haven't changed, to get on next year's printed report.

An asterisk (*) means the person named resides in the county reported.
