

NEW YORK BIRD LIST REPORTS 2000

Compiled by Berna Lincoln

PO Box 296, Somers NY 10589

(BernaLincoln@aol.com)

Once again, more than 90 people, including several new to this activity, participated and sent reports.

The big record-breaker was Matt Victoria who reported the highest Annual List, 334, ever published for New York State. His story of his adventure is in The Kingbird Vol. 51 No. 3 (September 2001) so I won't repeat it here but just urge everyone to read it to see what it takes to accomplish such a feat

Sue Adair, Bob Grosek and Bill Watson reached the threshold of 100 in all ten Regions this year. Five people are now in that category. After his misadventure with the boundary between Regions 8 and 9 in 1999, Bill went back to Region 9, picked up the one species he was missing and found three more for insurance. That's a relief! We can all stop feeling sorry for him now.

Bill Broderick and Mickey Scilingo are congratulated as the newest members of the group that has birded and kept lists in all 62 counties. That brings to ten the number who have done so.

Mark Russell is the only young member (under 18 years old) to continue to submit his reports. Once again, we recognize and admire the support and encouragement of his father, Dave. We're sure there are others out there like these two and would love to hear from them. Mark, who was actually still less than ten years old in 2000, now has records in an impressive 17 counties. His reports are marked with ■.

Among those reporting for the first time, I draw your attention to two. Otis Waterman may or may not like me calling him "the Dean of Dutchess County birders" but that's how I think of him and I was more than delighted to hear from him this year. Although he doesn't spend all his time in New York anymore, he maintains a lively interest in his Dutchess County list, a hard-to-surpass 275. Jay Lehman was transferred to Ohio by his employer a number of years ago but he, too, keeps up with some of his old loyalties and has sent his lists from several counties, including his former home, Chenango County, where he has the record of 225.

By far, the best story came, a bit late but too good not to tell, from Rich MacDonald about his adventure in 1999, the year he first reported from all 62 counties. It seems there's that boring time in early December in the Adirondacks, between water for canoeing and snow for skiing, so he decided to celebrate his 36th birthday by driving the state to see how many counties he could bird in four days. It turned out to be all 62! He put 1800 miles on the truck but fueled himself with o.j. – "no evil caffeine for me" – and donuts. While he only got one or two species in some counties on this trip – a middle-of-the-night Barred Owl heard in Hamilton, moon-lit Canada Geese in Orange – he says he did get out of the vehicle at some places like Niagara Falls, Montezuma NWR and Jamaica Bay. For most of this venture, Brian McAllister rode shotgun and Rich lauds his ability to spot and point out the crows, starlings and such at 65 mph. Stunned though he must have been by this experience, Brian managed to keep his own lists, too, and reported from 48 counties. And I'm stunned, too, by this new challenge. Rich admits, "It was crazy...but the benchmark of all 62 counties in four days will be a tough one to match. Maybe I will set off to do it again some time...because it is there."

As noted on the report form, only lists submitted for 2000 are printed here. The only "holdovers" are high counts reported in prior years that haven't yet been surpassed. They are at the end of this report.

The 2001 report form is in this issue of New York Birders. You'll need to send it in, even if your numbers haven't changed, to get on the printed report for that year.

An asterisk (*) means the person named resides in the county reported.
